LUDENDORFF Tells all about the inner workings of the German war machine in a series of articles to appear in The Times daily and Sunday.

PRESIDENT ILL; CANCELS TOUR

Germans With Nerves Unstrung Could Not Stand Allied Artillery Attacks

"It was of easy decision" on the part of Ludendorff to order the withdrawal of his army to the Hindenburg line early in September, 1918. He had hoped to stand in the positions he had fortified on the western edge of the devastated region, where he had taken possession of the lines of trenches that existed before the battle of the Somme.

His army, however, was justifying his fears that it would not stand well on the defensive. One trouble after another came to him as Foch hammered at his lines. Divisions he had prepared for a counter-attack near Noyon, when the French offensive was launched between the Oise and the Aisne, failed to attack and his line went to smash. The Canadians drove through his Wotan line in front of Arras. The Americans helped the French to hammer him back north of Soissons.

So he had to retreat. And going back, he realized that the Hindenburg line would not hold, for he prepared two others in the rear and ordered the evacuation of Lens and other places and the shipping of food to Germany.

By GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORFF
BETWEEN the Oise and the Aisne (northwest of Soissons) the great French attack had already succeeded August 20. By the 17th the French had pushed back our advanced troops on to the main line of defense. I found out later that these had offered stronger resistance than they should have done. The fighting strength of several divisions was thereby diminished to a extent that had not entered into my calculations.

The attack developed exactly as had been anticipated. The counter-attack divisions stationed near Gohs (southeast of Noyon), however, were not thrown into the fight. A deep salient was made here, rendering the position of the troops, with the Oise in their rear, exceedingly uncomfortable. In the direction of Noyon, also, the enemy broke into our line, but was driven back, although not completely, by counter-attacks delivered by good German Jager divisions.

Even apart from the two points of penetration, we did not succeed in maintaining our main line of resistance intact. The position was now such that it seemed unwise to attempt to maintain our line in front of the Oise and the Aisne. G. H. Q. decided to withdraw the right wing of the 6th Army behind the Oise on the night of the 21st, and on the night of the 22nd, whilst holding the ground to the northwest of Soissons, to withdraw the centre of the Army behind the Aisne.

The battle had again taken an unfavorable course, in spite of all our preparations; the nerves of the Army had suffered. In some places the men would no longer stand the tremendous artillery barrages and tank attacks, which had become still more severe. Again we had suffered heavy and irreparable losses.

August 29 was another black day, literally compelling the enemy to continue the offensive.

GRAYSON ORDERS WILSON BACK TO THE CAPITAL

WICHITA, KAN., Sept. 26—President Wilson today cancelled the remainder of this tour under orders from Admiral Cary T. Grayson the president's physician and will return to Washington direct from Wichita. Admiral Grayson gave illness and physical exhaustion as the reason for his action.

Although there was said to be nothing critical about the president's condition, Dr. Grayson, his physician, declared a nervous reaction affecting his digestive organs made suspension of his trip imperative.

Mr. Wilson was ill most of the night and the decision to return at once to the capital was reached just before his train arrived in Wichita. The president, himself, wanted to continue his speaking program, but Dr. Grayson would not permit it.

The president's address which was to have been delivered at the Forum building this morning, was cancelled.

The presidential train did not pull into the station at Wichita, where a large crowd was waiting to welcome the president. Although he wanted to at least greet the people here, Dr. Grayson would not permit him to leave his private car.

Secretary Tumulty issued the following statement:

"The president has exerted himself so constantly and has been under such a strain during the last year, and has so spent himself without reserve on his trip that it has brought on a nervous reaction in his digestive organs.

Dr. Grayson, therefore, insists upon the cancellation of his remaining appointments and his immediate return to Washington, notwithstanding the president's earnest desire to complete his engagements."

Leaving Wichita at 11 o'clock today, after a stop of about two hours, the presidential special will reach Washington Sunday morning. It will go by way of Kansas City and St. Louis.

Although outwardly the president had appeared to be standing well the hard ordeal of more than three weeks of travel and speech-making, it became known today that for some days he had suffered from headache. He also has been much fatigued by the confinement of his special train, interrupted only by brief stops which have been spent mostly in riding through crowds and speaking to audiences so large as to require all his exertion to make his voice heard.

Mr. Wilson has made nearly 40 speeches since he left Washington on September 2, and has spent all but about half a dozen nights on the train. Five addresses remained on his uncompleted schedule. After today he was to have spoken in Little Rock and Memphis tomorrow and in Louisville Monday morning, returning to Washington on Tuesday.

It was declared by members of the president's party that one of the details which seemed to be most trying on his nerves has been the automobile parades through the cities he has visited. He has travelled many miles standing in his car and waving his hat in response to the cheers of welcome. This feature of the trip also apparently has been very tiring to Mrs. Wilson, who has accompanied him wherever he went, and who, during the last few days has shown evidence of being nervous for the strain to end.

The details of the president's indisposition were not revealed, but it was indicated that he had a slight touch of indigestion. Dr. Grayson thought it

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS PENDING IN STEEL STRIKE

(By the Associated Press)
Three important developments were pending today in the steel strike, any one of which may have a vital bearing on the outcome of the great industrial struggle.

In Pittsburgh the national steel workers' committee was to meet late today and a definite decision was expected in regard to calling out the 10,000 workers in the Bethlehem Steel plants Monday. Although the company officials here so far shown no inclination to compromise, local union officials at Allentown expressed optimism over the prospect of a strike being averted.

In Youngstown, where the strikers have succeeded in completely tying up the steel industry, in the Mahoning valley district, meetings were announced of unskilled and semi-skilled workers to discuss the question of returning to work. Some mystery surrounded these meetings as both the strike leaders and the mill managers professed to know nothing of their origin.

The third development was promised at Cleveland, where the executive committee of the Great Lakes shipping union, claiming to represent 35,000 seamen, engineers and men of allied trades, met to decide whether their organizations would declare a sympathetic strike. Such a strike already has been authorized by the international unions.

Condition Unchanged
With conditions in the steel centers remaining virtually unchanged, the senate investigation at Washington was the focus of attention on both sides. Samuel Gompers, veteran head of the American Federation of Labor, appeared before the labor committee today. Mr. Gompers opened his testimony with a statement that the question of union recognition, giving the workers a right to voice in determining the conditions under which they worked, was paramount.

In the meantime the usual conflicting claims were made by the opposing generals in the pivotal battle grounds of Pittsburgh and Chicago, but all definite news indicated no important change in conditions. At Pittsburgh two additional small plants closed and an attempt to reopen a third was reported by the police to have failed. The corporation officials made the customary claim that strikers continued to return to work at various points.

The management of the Illinois Steel Company at Chicago announced that they had 1,000 men at work, most of whom, they asserted, were refused strikers. On the other hand, the strike leaders offered figures as proof that the strike was 100 percent effective at several points, 50 percent at Hammond, 25 at Gary and 45 at Indiana Harbor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—After being shown an Associated Press dispatch quoting John Fitzpatrick, director-general of the steel strikers, as saying the walk-out would end immediately if the United States Steel Corporation would arbitrate differences, Elbert H. Gary, director-general of the corporation, declared in a statement last night, speaking for himself, that he believed the board of directors "can not negotiate or confer with Mr. Fitzpatrick or his associates."

Mr. Gary was shown the dispatch while he was attending a dinner given here tonight by Baron Kendo, president of the Japan Mail Steamship Company, and was asked to make some comment. Frowning the whole he has maintained since the beginning of the strike, Mr. Gary wrote a statement while seated at the table and then calling the newspaper men into the hall read it.

GOMPERS TESTIFIES IN STRIKE HEARING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—After hearing Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, for more than three hours, the senate committee investigating the steel strike today abandoned its plan to examine tomorrow William Z. Foster, secretary of the steel workers' committee, who has been attacked in the house of representatives as a radical and a I. W. W.

Chairman Krogen announced that the inquiry would not be resumed until next Wednesday when Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, will be heard. He gave no reason for not hearing Foster tomorrow, but other members of the committee said later that Foster would be called before the committee at some future time. The right of the employees to have some voice in determining the conditions under which they work is the paramount issue in the strike of the steel workers, Mr. Gompers told the committee today. Appearing as the second witness for labor, Mr. Gompers was first asked by Chairman Krogen to define the issues in the controversy.

"The right to be heard is what the steel workers are asking above all else," Gompers said.

"The right to speak with their employers through their own representatives, to have some voice in determining conditions under which they work."

"The right of workers to association has been denied with all the power and influence and wealth of the steel corporation, denied by brutal and unscrupulous means."

"It has been said that most of the men taking part in this strike are of foreign birth and not naturalized citizens. That may be, and so doubt is true. The largest proportion of steel corporation employees are of foreign birth, but these men were brought here by the companies."

"There was for years a systematic effort to bring in these men from Europe."

ORDER BRITISH TRAINMEN TO STRIKE

LONDON, Sept. 26—The conference between the railroad men's representatives and the government for an attempted adjustment of differences on the wage question today resulted in failure and a strike on the railroads has been ordered to take effect tonight at midnight.

U. S. MARINES LANDED IN DALMATIA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Secretary Daniels was asked in a resolution by Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, adopted today by the senate, to report whether American marines were landed at Trau, Dalmatia, to compel their evacuation by Italian forces, as reported in press dispatches from Copenhagen and Paris.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 26—American marines landed from a torpedo boat destroyers to compel the Italians to evacuate Trau, Dalmatia, according to a dispatch received here from Spalato, a short distance east of Trau. The dispatch adds that the Italians left after the inhabitants fired on them and that Japanese troops took over the town from the Americans.

AMERICANS TAKE HAND
PARIS, Sept. 26—American naval forces have taken a hand in the seafaring events along the eastern shore of the Adriatic, according to dispatches from Copenhagen. United States destroyers, appearing off the port of Trau when Italian soldiers attempted to force their way into the town, brought the attack to a sudden stop, the Italians retreating hastily, it is said. One Italian armored car, with its crew of an officer and three privates, fell into the hands of the Jugo-Slavs who were defending the place. The prisoners were taken over by American marines and transferred to an Italian ship. Serbian troops arrived at Trau soon after the marines were put ashore and the town was turned over to them by the marines who returned to their ships, according to report.

Wilson Rejects Proposals
The crown council of Italy met yesterday under the presidency of King Victor Emmanuel, and the belief is expressed that the council had before it a reply from President Wilson to the Italian proposals intended to settle the problem of the disposition of Fiume. Advice from Rome do not indicate the nature of the reply, but in Italian circles here it is said that the proposals were rejected by Mr. Wilson, who also threatened an economic boycott if Italy persisted in holding Fiume. In an Italian ship, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen, American naval delegates would not discuss the report.

The Dalmatian forces at Fiume are said to have extended their lines back by the city so as to include high ground strategically necessary for the defense of the city. The city of Fiume, which is really a part of Fiume, is to be taken over by Captain Danmazzini. At present Sussak is occupied by the ocean's brigade of the Italian army, which has not joined the insurgents. Comparatively good order prevails in the city, it is said.

The political situation in Italy is apparently near a crisis, according to a report, the advocates of the annexation of Fiume includes some of the more powerful elements.

PARIS, Sept. 26—Premier Nitti and Foreign Minister Tittori will make declarations of their policy in the chamber of deputies tomorrow and ask for a vote of confidence in the government, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Rome. The entire ministry will attend the session, the dispatch adds.

REBEL CHIEFS UNDER VILLA'S BANNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Information that all the revolutionary leaders in Mexico, with the exception of Felix Diaz, have accepted Francisco Villa as their chief and placed at his disposal their men, munitions and money, has reached Washington from a Villa courier who left the revolutionary headquarters in Durango about two weeks ago.

MINE WORKERS CHIEF WILL NOT ATTEND
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26—John L. Lewis, of Springfield, Ill., acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, today wrote President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, declining the invitation to be one of the labor representatives at President Wilson's "round-table" conference, opening at Washington, October 6. Lack of confidence in the conference, and dissatisfaction with the personnel of the delegates selected to represent the general public were among the compelling reasons for Mr. Lewis' action.

INVASION OF WEST VIRGINIA BY OHIOANS IS FEARED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26—Upon receipt today of a telegram from Governor Cornell, of West Virginia, to the effect that five thousand men from Steubenville and other Ohio towns nearby are reported to be planning to cross the Ohio line into Hancock, W. Va., for the purpose of compelling workers to quit their places, Governor Cox today wired W. G. Baker, sheriff of Jefferson county, to use his best efforts in order to prevent any possibility of conflict between citizens of Ohio and West Virginia.

In his telegram to Governor Cox, Governor Cornell, of West Virginia, said concerning the rumor of an attempted invasion of West Virginia by Ohio workers, "will be regarded as an attack upon the sovereignty of West Virginia."

"I have no means of knowing whether the delegation in question contemplates anything which would be a violation of the laws of Ohio," said Governor Cox in his telegram to Sheriff Baker, "but I respectfully urge upon you to use your best offices in order to avert any possibility of conflict between the citizens of this commonwealth and the state government of West Virginia."

Mr. Wilson has made nearly 40 speeches since he left Washington on September 2, and has spent all but about half a dozen nights on the train. Five addresses remained on his uncompleted schedule. The NEW EDISON

The Three Million Dollar Phonograph

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the phonograph in 1877. Later he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You now have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and market it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in gold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RE-CREATION, as it is now called.

We are prepared to sell you today, for $285, an exact duplicate of Edison's three million dollar Phonograph. You may even have extended terms of payment, if you desire that accommodation. Few of all, however, we want you to hear this wonderful new instrument. May we have the pleasure of demonstrating to you that Music's RE-CREATION is a reality and not merely a fanciful phrase?

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Stocks were not all over the issues at the liquidation of today's stock market, overlooking developments dealing with the strike situation evidently contributing to the strength of that group. Crude oil was the spectacular feature, showing nearly nine points in the first 15 minutes. United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel gained a point each and equipments, oils, motors and food division were 1 to 5 points higher, tobacco, shippings and metals also making substantial advances. Profit taking reduced some of the more extensive gains before the end of the first half hour.

Further trading set in on news of President Wilson's intention to abandon his tour. Leaders held relatively steady although United States Steel cancelled its gain. Crude oil yielded only a small part of its early advance but many of the more speculative issues comprising the motor, oil and equipment division reacted 2 to 3 points. The market became dull in the forenoon, traders hesitating to resume a definite attitude, but food, tobacco and metals shares were among the firmest issues at noon. Call money opened at 6 percent.

The strength of stocks and associated issues in today's stock market was attributed to developments in the industrial crisis. Sales approximated 360,000 shares.

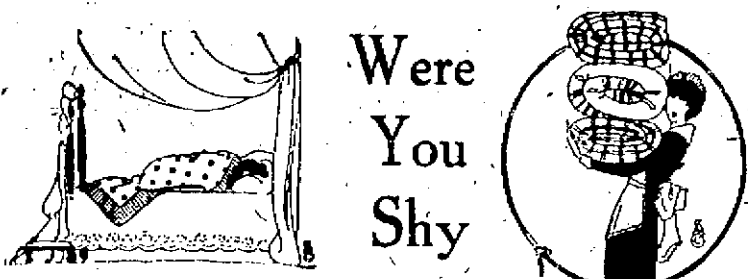

The closing was strong.

Here Are the Gloves That Are Fall's Early Choice

The outside seam glove is a smart glove with suits that women are donning right now while the more dressy French imported kid gloves hold sway for occasions. Just to be out doors as much as possible this ideal weather is every one's object and gloves that are serviceable as well as good looking are being asked for daily. The fashionable brown shades are of course to be had here in many qualities for women and children.

Seldom have we started a season with such great varieties of gloves and that in spite of the fact that never have gloves been so scarce and hard to get. We offer practically everything in fall gloves, among them are:

We Don't See Any Hope For Lower Priced Sheets

The way the market is headed we do not see any chance or hope for lower priced sheets, sheeting, pillow cases or muslins or cambrics for many months to come. There seems to be no let up in prices and merchandise is very hard to get.

Fortunately, there are some numbers in sheets and pillow cases which we purchased months ago and which we will sell at prices under the market value.

Sheet and Pillow Case Special

THE MOVIES

Source: Hapgood and Turtel, in "A Heart in Pawn."

Charm and Pathos Splendidly Interwoven in the New Hayakawa Play At The Strand Tonight.

Also Lloyd Comedy

There are many heart stirring incidents in "A Heart in Pawn", Sessoo Hayakawa's latest play which will be presented at the Strand tonight. The charm and pathos of the stage play, "Gladys", from which it has been adapted, are preserved, while realistically and scientifically the production surpasses the stage version, just so far as nature exceeds paint and canvas. The theme of the story is mother love and it is presented in a masterful way. The night scenes in Japan were particularly the chase of the convict woman after her escape in prison are weirdly beautiful and you will be more than satisfied and delighted with this romance under "The Wishing Moon". You shouldn't miss this story of mother love and sacrifice. A Lloyd comedy and a travelogue complete the program.

Monroe Salisbury in the Universal Special Attraction "The Sleeping Lion" at The Temple Tonight and The Family Tutor.

One year of life in the wild west transformed Tony Vallerio, an Italian immigrant, into a daring, swashbuckling cattleman. Fate had decreed that this lion, when roused to glorious slumber, would meet Durant, the cowboy, with the power of a forest monarch. In the glare of the Royal Saloon they fought it out with a ferocity that amazed even the men of the west to whom fighting was a part of life itself. Dancing Contest Tonight Bridwell Is Home

At Colman, champion hard shoe endurance dancer of the world, will meet all comers in a free for all dancing contest at the Sun Theatre tonight. Cash prizes will be given to the winners by the management of the Sun. Everyone in the audience will be eligible to participate. Applause will decide the winner. The dancing contest will be staged after the regular program, as an extra added attraction, and there will be no extra admission charge.

The occasion for the dancing contest is the appearance at the Sun this week of Al Lemon, champion hard shoe endurance dancer of the world. Lemon, who is a featured comedian with Al Coleman's "Tip Top Merry Dancers", won his title at Madison Square Garden, New York City, in competition with some of the brightest dancing stars of the world.

There is a complete change of program at the Sun today.

After a highly successful year at Houston, where he piloted the team in the Texas League, Al H. Bridwell is back in Portsmouth. His team finished second and only a few games behind St. Worth, the pennant winner in the second half.

Mr. Bridwell is dickering for a block of stock in the Houston team, and if he secures it he will have control interest in the club. He is a great favorite in Houston and his team made lots of money this season. He sold his star pitcher, Bryan Harris, to the Athletics for a handsome sum.

A PROFITABLE TRACTOR

Read What the Owners Say:

The Reliable Engine Co.,
Portsmouth, Ohio
Gentlemen:

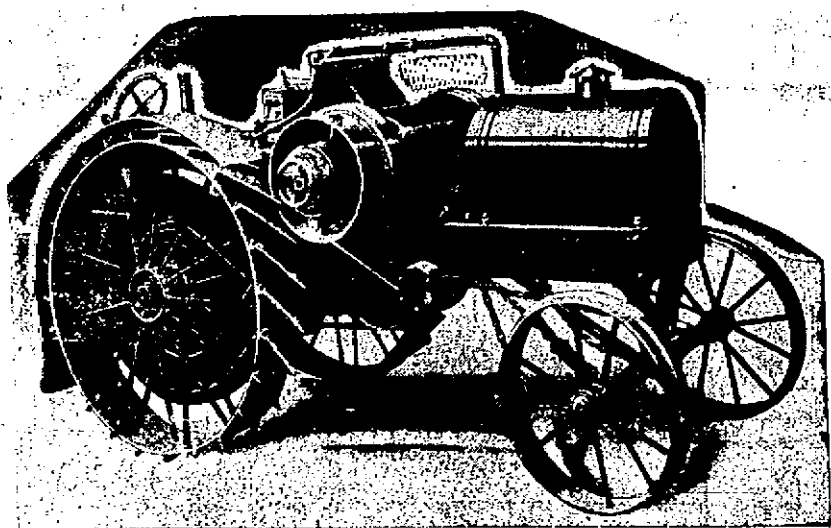

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 10th and am certainly well pleased to note what you say therein. There is another proof of the many services which you people rendered and you can rest assured that a farmer very greatly appreciates it. The service which your company gives and the service which the Tractor gives is everything that the name "RELIABLE" implies.

I have now owned and operated your machine for over a year, doing all kinds of contract work, such as plowing, discing, harrowing, filling silos, running saw mills and corn huskers, all under contract. The machine has performed perfectly and has been a great money making investment for me. The sturdy "RELIABLE" engine on your tractor cannot be beaten, and is always on the job. It has certainly been one fine outfit for me and I shall recommend it wherever I can. My machine has been in almost continuous use ever since I bought it, as I do all kinds of contract work with it, and in one year it has paid me back what I paid for it and given me a big profit besides.

If anyone wants to know anything about your Tractor, just sent them to me and I'll show them some stunts.

Very truly yours,

H. H. GILKEY.

The most successful and profitable tractor is the one doing the largest variety of good work with the least expense and delay—one that KEEPS GOING and gives CONTINUOUS SERVICE. To get continuous service a tractor must be simple sturdy and easy to operate, so that an ordinary person can start it and keep it going. It may be necessary to call on the factory expert several times before the operator can handle the tractor successfully and keep it going. The most important thing is to know you are going to get service or repairs promptly when you are in need. The safe plan is to buy a tractor made close to your home.

The Reliable kerosene oil burning tractor is making good on all kinds of work. Its work at plowing, discing, packing, preparing the ground for planting is perfect, and cannot be better. Its work on the belt up to 20 H. P. is perfect. Everyone praises the STURDY powerful kerosene oil engine. The Reliable Tractor is dependable and gives the owner longer and better service than any other—its simple sturdy design and construction reduces chances for trouble and makes operating simple and easy. If you buy a Reliable, you not only get the simplest and most satisfactory tractor made, but are assured of prompt service when you need it and when it means money to buy. Buy a Reliable, made right here in Portsmouth.

Taken To Reformatory
Herbert Springer and John Lowellyn, who were recently sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory by Judge Thomas following their plea of guilty to indictments charging carrying concealed weapons, were transferred from the county jail to the Mansfield prison today by Deputy Sheriff Harry Dunham.

The two prisoners ran away from the Lancaster Industrial farm and were apprehended here after they had broken into the N. and W. station at Wakefield.

Must Pay Alimony
Thomas Blankenship, steelworker, was ordered by Judge Thomas yesterday to pay his wife, Elizabeth Blankenship, the sum of $10 a week pending the final hearing of her suit for divorce and alimony.

Time For Hearing Courts Fixed
The time for the commencement of each term of the Courts of Appeals in Scioto county for the year 1920 has been fixed by the court for March 9 and November 18; according to an official notice received from the judges of the court today by Clerk Ed Cunningham.

Mrs. Short-Lived; Asks For A Divorce
On August 20 last, Frances Edna Mead was married to Truman Mead but her life was short lived, according to charges she made in a suit for divorce and alimony filed in Common Pleas court today through Attorney B. F. Kimble against Mead.

In her petition the wife charges that Mead ever since their marriage has continued a systematic course of abuse toward her and her three small children by a former husband. She complains that he calls her and the children vile and indecent names and threatens to do them bodily harm and further, she says, he continually boasts of shooting people and takes in a menacing manner for the purpose of intimidating her. The wife obtained an injunction restraining Mead from molesting her or visiting her home in Washington township and enjoining him from removing or disposing of her property.

Temporary Alimony Granted
Hearing on the application for an allowance of temporary alimony in the case of Lillian Fife against Charles M. Fife before Judge Thomas yesterday, resulted in the court ordering Fife to pay $10 a week pending the final hearing of her suit for divorce and alimony.

Will Pay $10 Weekly
William F. Cecil has agreed to pay his wife Parlee Cecil the sum of $10 a week as temporary alimony, according to an entry filed with Clerk of Courts Ed Cunningham today, pending the final hearing of her suit for divorce.

Mr. Hoskins Execrated
An inquiry to determine the assets of the estate of Lucy Hartley, late of Porter township, who died April 2 last, was conducted before Judge Gilliland in probate court today.

Mrs. Hartley died leaving property with an estimated value of $60,000, and one sister, Eliza Dawn, and one brother, James Hoskins, besides 13 nieces and nephews as her next of kin. James Hoskins was appointed as administrator and later charges were made that the woman died possessed of considerable more personal property in the form of money than was reported to the court, who ordered an investigation.

The inquiry held today was quite spirited, much feeling being displayed by the witnesses interested in the controversy and several charges were averred during the hearing only by the interference of the court.

The investigation was made at the instance of the administrator and it resulted in his vindication as the complainant against him was unsupported by the evidence and no additional property was unearthed.

Sale In Partition
An action to partition real estate was filed in common pleas court today by Raymond Hughes, through Attorney A. C. Woodrow against Elmer Hines and others. The real estate sought to be divided is the property situated at 630 Seventh street, and was left to the plaintiff and defendant as the heirs-at-law of Alice Hughes, now dead.

Jacobs, named as correspondent in divorce proceedings instituted against Mary Carter by her husband, Andrew J. Carter, Judge Thomas yesterday ordered the child taken from the mother and committed to the custody of the Bureau of Community Service pending the final disposition of the divorce case.

Court Approves Sale

He was hurt about the spine and permanently disabled. The terms of the settlement was not announced. Murphy was represented by Attorneys Milner, Miller & Seavey.

same as usual, or should I drop her?
The girl is one of the organists of the church. Should she still be allowed to continue playing?
DOUBTFUL CHUM
The girl probably knew what she was doing when she went riding with the young man. So far she has done nothing wrong to anyone's knowledge and people should not be so ready to look for evil in her. Doubtless she had met the young man formally, but did not feel it necessary to inform every one about something which was her own affair.
Of course she should be allowed to play the organ.
In your mind, should a church try to help people? Or should it close its doors to all who are not strict?
Narrow-mindedness and interference are both sins. I am sure you have the virtue of charity toward all and upon giving the matter thought would not want to turn against your girl friend.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am sure the Women's City Club is a good thing and I'm ashamed to appear so ignorant on the subject but, frankly, what use is the Women's City Club?
RESIDENT
I'm glad you asked me for I've been wanting to boost the club and now I'll have this opportunity. The club will furnish public sentiment for the betterment of the city and will strengthen any movement started by any organization which will carry out the aims of the club which are for civic, moral and sanitary betterment of Portsmouth. The club consequently will be of little, if any, worth unless it is very large. Every woman, if not to herself, stands for all that is good in the eyes of some man. She creates a sentiment for betterment. Portsmouth should be clean and beautiful, she says but unorganized her opinion hasn't force. If 2000, 4000, or all the women in the city say the same thing, don't you see that the thing would be accomplished? Of course beautifying the city is largely but that is not the ideal of the Women's City Club but the ideal is the same, all things can be accomplished if several thousand women create the public sentiment.

South Portsmouth Working Woman—If you have character enough to go ahead and do your work, regardless of what people say, then I'd advise you to take the job. If the authorities know about the care it is out of your hands.

Dear Dolly—I am the father of two children a girl and a boy. They both want to get married and I want to know if I would have to go with them to get their license. The boy is 20 and the girl is 18, would I have to help the boy get his license and the mother help the girl? I want them to be happy please, advise me, or could they get their own license.
THE FATHER
The boy will have to have his parents consent and be accompanied by one parent. The girl is of age in Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Can you tell me where I can get work? I would like to work in some factory. I am a girl 16 years old and passed the 6th grade.
A. A.
You are too young to work unless forced to by necessity. If you stay in school longer you will be able to get a better job. See the U. S. Employment Bureau, Butler building, Chillicothe street of the employment office of one of the factories.

Dear Miss Wise—I have received a letter regarding the marriage of my child friend in California and I have been rather puzzled about answering it. Will you please give me a few suggestions or a brief outline of what I should mention when writing a letter of congratulations?
HAZEL EYES
My hair is continually falling out, in spite of all the different preparations I have used. I shampoo it every two weeks and it is a matter of but a few days before it is all gone. What can I do to make my hair grow thick and long?
WASH EYES
Wash the eyes with warm water and do not try to form it in some one else's suggestion. With the girl happens and express a desire to meet her husband. Also question her about her future plans.

WILSON FIRM IN VIEWS ON FIUME

ROME, Sept. 25.—(Via Paris).—President Wilson's reply regarding the new proposals for the disposition of Fiume has been received, the news papers announced today, and was found to insist upon his original view that the city should be internationalized and not annexed to Italy, becoming the center of a small buffer state between Italy and Jugoslavia.

The president does not insist, according to the press, upon a plebiscite in the buffer state at the end of 15 years, as at first proposed, and he consents to the rectification of the eastern frontier of Italy in favor of Italy in the district of Albania.

More Room Is Basement

His growing business demanding more room, W. A. Pepper, owner of the one to twenty-five-cent store, Chillicothe street, has added one thousand feet of floor space to his basement department, which can be said to be one of the most up-to-date basement departments in this part of the country. The new addition now gives him more than 3000 feet of floor space in the basement and will enable him to not only better display his merchandise but to carry larger lines. The new department will be for the sale and display of art goods and will, no doubt, add greatly to the sale of merchandise. Mr. Pepper's store now demands three floors and every one of said floors is busy all the time. The basement department is scientifically ventilated and well lighted and now requires the services of eight sales people to care for the trade.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity. Prevents Food Fermentation. Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids, and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic, just try the effect of a little bismuthated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bismuthated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drugist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder, or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and swell, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bismuthated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and moreover, the continued use of the bismuthated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way, so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Reliable In Demand

A standardized tractor with a low speed motor consuming kerosene, are two main advantages of the Reliable, manufactured by The Reliable Tractor and Engine Company, this city.

An editorial recently published in the Automotive Industries is cited by Chris Heer, of that concern, in which it states "there is no difficulty in designing tractor engines to operate at materially higher speeds than are customary, but the question is, how to get? It can hardly be disputed that, given equal quality of material and workmanship and equal operating conditions, especially as regards the percentage of maximum load normally carried by the engine, the high speed engine will not be as durable as the low speed one. It is, of course possible, if the high speed engine is of the same dimensions, to operate it at a lower relative load than the low speed engine, and this may equalize the wear and depreciation, but then the question of fuel economy comes up again, for an engine always operates more economically under full throttle than under half throttle.

Ford's Test A Big Success

Early in May, a 24 hour plowing test was conducted on the Wilton farm, near Richmond, Tenn., under the auspices of the Fordson tractor agent. During that time, 2000 acres were broken in 20 and one half hours continuous running time. The total cost for fuel and oil was $291. The first 12 hours of the test, 10 acres were plowed on a rectangular piece of ground, with a ditch running through it, making it difficult for the tractor to negotiate turns, which, it is said, accounts that an acre an hour was not plowed. At the conclusion of the test, the tractor was examined and found to be in fine shape.

I calculated on the continuation of the enemy's attack between the Oise and the Aisne toward Laon; an advance here would be fruitful of results, rendering untenable the positions of the 15th Army to the north of the Oise and of the 7th to the north of the Vesle. The enemy was pressing the Soissons-Chateau line strongly. Fierce fighting ensued here with varying success, and the end could not yet be foreseen.
The 18th Army, which took over the command of the troops on the Oise, was at the point directly and seriously menaced from the south.
As a result of the course of events east of Albert (the British advance) and south of the Oise, between the Somme and the Oise was by no means secure as the general military situation demanded. It would have been fatal to run risks at this point.

Orders a Wide Retreat
The Army Groups of the Crown Prince Rupprecht and von Boehn were therefore ordered to retire during the last days of August to the line already recommenced east of the Somme, in front of Peronne-Somme, northeast of Noyon (a front of more than 35 miles).
As their reserve line, the Siegfried system (the Hindenburg line) was now to be put in order. Von Boehn's Army Group had attached importance to the retention of the left bank of the Somme, in front of Peronne, because from there favorable flanking movements against the area north of Peronne were possible. However, the German command, which determined the position of the line. These movements were carried through about the night of August 26-27.

The 17th Army, which had only a short while to the rear to perform, and the 18th, carried out the retirement without a hitch and in good order, and held their new positions against enemy attacks. The 2nd Army was less fortunate. Northwest of Peronne the new line failed to hold. The division to the southwest of the town let the enemy gain the left bank, thus rendering the situation very difficult for the troops on the northern bank. Again some divisions failed, putting a terrible strain on other garrisons. There is no record to detail. You simply have not sought the proper treatment. It is within your reach.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

This question is ever on the lips of the afflicted. Eczema, Tetter, Erythema, and other terrifying conditions of the skin are deep-seated blood troubles, and the application of salves, lotions, and ointments can only afford temporary relief without reaching the real seat of the trouble. But just because local treatment has been used, there is no reason to despair. You simply have not sought the proper treatment. It is within your reach.
You have the experience of others who have suffered as you have to

Supplies from Germany had already been cut down to absolute essentials. The withdrawal of the front line to the Siegfried position made Avesnes no longer a suitable position, for the 8th, 9th, and 10th, and accordingly returned to the line held in March so full of hope and confidence.
The enemy's strength was heavily taxed as well as ours, as they attacked again and again on various sectors with the same decisions. Their losses, too, must have been heavy, but they were on the offensive and we had to submit to their raving blows on us, just as in 1917. Our experiences of these battles were repeated, our troops fighting better in attack than on the defensive.
Our relative strength in divisions was more favorable at the beginning of September than it had been in the previous year, but some of our divisions were very weak; we had, whilst retaining the machine gun companies to reduce our battalions from four to three companies. This material necessity needed for four companies was excessive in relation to the actual strength; for example, we did not need four field cookers to a battalion, two or three being amply sufficient.
More Americans Coming
With the breaking up of a number of our divisions, and the arrival of further Americans in the fighting line, the balance of numbers was bound to be still more unfavorable to us.
Shaking at the front became more prevalent, especially among men returning from home leave. Overstaying of leave increased, and the fighting line was more thinly manned. The Ministry for War was at last prepared to call up exempted men in greater numbers for the army, with what success remained to be seen. What would be the morale of these men?

"Trutona's the Best Medicine I've Ever Taken," Mrs. Watkins Says

"I think Trutona is the best medicine I've ever taken and I'm sure it will help anyone who is in a weak, run-down condition." Mrs. Mary Watkins, 69 years old, a well-known resident of Hanging Rock, said recently.
"I was suffering with rheumatism and kidney trouble and my stomach was out of shape," she continued. "I have severe pains in my back and for a number of years I've been bothered with pains around my heart. I'd often have to take some strong medicine to deaden the pains."
"I've just now finished my first bottle of Trutona and it certainly has helped me a whole lot. For the past few days I haven't been bothered with the pains around my heart. My stomach has ceased to bother me and I don't have the pains in my back now. In short I feel better in every way and I'm going to continue using Trutona. I'm sure it will eventually completely relieve my troubles."
Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Portsmouth at Worcester Bros. drug store.

Smart Fall Footwear Parade Plenty of Style

We know how hard some of you women are to please when it comes right down to the selection of your footwear. Some of you like this, some of you like that in a shoe and so on infinitely down the whole gamut of tastes. But no matter; it doesn't trouble us in the least how numerous or how variable these whims and fancies of yours may be, we have shoes in this new fall showing to cater to them all. There is not a last, leather or style in a button or lace model, in a plain color, or a smart novelty effect but that we can dig up for you on a moment's notice, and at prices that are right. If you do not think so kindly come in and take a glance at our display. The shoe situation is so serious that the styles for this Fall and Winter will be practically the same as those of last year. We knew this many months ago, we foresaw the impending high prices. And we bought shoes way last spring and even last winter for this coming Fall at "old prices" in immense quantities. This means that there is now in our shoe department thousands of dollars worth of fine footwear that by every merchandising right should be marked with the "new prices" to compare favorably with what other stores have had to do. But the Marting store is determined to help break the back of exorbitant price standards, and fortunately is able to do it without actual loss through just such foresightedness as this. This is a brief, simple statement of a tremendous important fact, perhaps the most important shoe announcement of the year, and we urge our patrons in justice to themselves to buy shoes now for Fall and Winter. long had extended his offensive northwards as far as the Scarpe (in front of Arras) in order to get in the rear of the Siegfried position, north of the Croisilles-Moeres (in front of Cambrai) line. To achieve this, he had to take our Wotan position, which had been built in 1917, starting in the north, and running through Binehe St. Vaast, and along the Scarpe to the East of Moeche, in the direction of Bullecourt.
On the 26th of August the English offensive against the Arras-Cambrai line opened (led by the Canadians). Here again the troops at first fell back according to plan, the early stages of the fighting developing favorably for us. Subsequently the English reached the Wotan system. On September 2 a strong assault by English tanks over-ran obstacles and trenches in this line and paved the way for their infantry.
Shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon General von Kuhl and Lieut. Colonel von Paretz, the Chief of Staff of the 17th Army, reported that it would no longer be wise to form a new line in front of the Arras-Moeres Canal. They requested permission from G. H. Q. to withdraw the 17th Army to that line, whilst holding the position north of the Scarpe.

We had to admit the necessity for this measure. In concert with von Boehn's Army Group we had to take another important step on account of the position of the 2nd Army, withdrawing its line and that of the 15th Army to the Siegfried position. Could Not Afford Men
It would no doubt have been possible to keep the left wing of the 15th Army in front of the Siegfried line, on the Crozat Canal, but that required more men than the defense of the St. Quentin-La Fere line, with the broad valley of the Oise in front of it. G. H. Q. rejected this idea, and brought the 15th Army back into the Siegfried line.
The 5th Army, and also the right wing of the 7th had to conform to this movement, the latter abandoning the Vesle (in front of American divisions) and taking up a position behind the Aisne, whilst the left wing of the same army continued to hold the Vesle to the north-east of Fismes.

Meanwhile the 5th Army had been heavily engaged, battles of tremendous violence developing on several occasions. Americans were again engaged, forming back the German line north of Soissons in a series of powerful attacks. Thanks to the unflinching skill and foresight of General von Carlwitz and his Chief of Staff, Lieut. Colonel Fampel, and to the gallantry of several divisions, this Army for the most part maintained its positions. The 1st Guard-Infantry Division, ready and able led by Prince Felix Frederick, and the well-trained 1st Guard-Cavalry Division fought magnificently, quite undisturbed by tanks.

It was no easy decision to withdraw the entire front from the Scarpe to the Vesle, but it shortened our line and recomposed men, which, considering our huge wastage, was an advantage worth some sacrifice, notwithstanding that it was shared by the enemy. Conditions were easier for the troops in and to the east of the Siegfried line, whilst the enemy was compelled to occupy ground rendered desolate by the withdrawals in the spring of 1917.

The centre of the 17th Army was to be withdrawn behind the Arras-Moeres canal during the night of the 3rd, whilst in general the retirement was to be undertaken as one movement, the detailed orders being prepared by the Army Groups.
In addition, the long-prepared evacuation of the 1st salient by the 4th and 6th Armies, was now carried out in order to concentrate man power. At the same time G. H. Q. gave orders, after consulting the commanders of the Army Groups, for the reconnaissance and strengthening of a new line, the Hermann line, behind the front line of the 17th Army.
This line was to start on the Dutch frontier east of Bruges, follow the Beloo Canal southward to the 1st Salient, and then along the coast of the Scheldt to south-west of Valenciennes. Further south it was to follow the Sambre to the Calais-Guisse line.

Prepared Third Position
Southwest of Marie the Hermann line joined the Hindenburg line position, which, constructed in 1917, passed by Biesme to the Aisne and continued upstream along that river. To the east of the Aisne the defensive position was continued by the remains of the 1st Army Group, which flattened out the St. Mihiel salient, ran across the Weerre plateau to a point west of the Moselle, near Lunenburg. The positions which already existed were to be strengthened as much as available labor permitted.
Further, we had a second reserve position recommenced, running to the west of the Antwerp-Brussels-Saint Mihiel line, and then upstream along the Meuse; this was called the Antwerp-Meuse line.

The fortresses in Alsace-Lorraine were put into a state of defence. Lastly, orders were given that all military material not required for immediate use should be removed from the region west and south of the Hermann-Hindenburg line, whilst preparations were to be made for the thorough demolition of railways and roads and for putting the most mines out of the interference with mine for urgent tactical reasons.

It was under this order that the German demolished the Lorrain civil region, doing damage that will not be repaired in less than 5 years, possibly 10 years. They were carrying out this programme in other parts of France and Belgium, until President Wilson in the first of his armistice notes, gave them warning that no armistice would be granted to an army guilty of such conduct.
Taking Last Home
Large scale evacuation in Germany was undertaken. Our railway communications were not favorable for this. In the north they were hemmed in towards the left by the strip of Dutch territory running south to Maastrecht; the line we built near Vlis had not proved sufficient to overcome this difficulty. Further south, important railways recovered on the Charleville-Moens line, and presented a particularly favorable target for enemy air raids.

Supplies from Germany had already been cut down to absolute essentials. The withdrawal of the front line to the Siegfried position made Avesnes no longer a suitable position, for the 8th, 9th, and 10th, and accordingly returned to the line held in March so full of hope and confidence.

The Ministry for War was at last prepared to call up exempted men in greater numbers for the army, with what success remained to be seen. What would be the morale of these men?

From the divisions in the East we had long ago extracted every man who could be employed in the fighting divisions of the West. Our position in the East at this time was more satisfactory. The Soviet Government had paid the first, quickly followed by the second, instalment of the Russian indemnity; relations had been established with the Don Cossacks. We were thus able to dispose of a few divisions of poor fighting quality, consisting of older classes not up to the standard of the Western Front. Should the peace endeavors of the Government prove unsuccessful, and the war continued over the winter and into the following summer, export

But even though a majority vote is given in the ratifying resolution, amendments or reservations such as proposed with respect to article 1, to give the ratifying resolution, and rather than put the United States Senate in the position of rejecting the treaty or putting language into which would mean a re-submission of the treaty to the Senate, a sufficient number of Senators will be able to prevent the ratifying resolution from coming to a vote in a "quasi-constitutional" form. This would transfer the right to the question of responsibility for delaying peace, those who were building up the treaty and could contend that in its amended form it is a rejection of the treaty and a vote is still within those who had passed a ratifying resolution with reservations might argue that enough votes were available to move the treaty into a "quasi-constitutional" form.

But Mr. Wilson, apparently, intends to go on to demonstrate where the responsibility lies. He says again and again in his speeches that he has now crossed the continent; he is quali-

NO MORE CATARRH

This Simple Home Treatment Has Stood The Test of Time

Every fall and winter for more than twenty years, thousands of people have made it a daily practice to breathe the air of Hygeia and so keep themselves free from Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat and Influenza. "This is a cure and you should try it," it says will breathe Hygeia daily, as directed, it will free you and keep you free from all these troubles or it won't cost you a cent.

Worster Bros. or any reliable druggist can supply you with the Complete Hygeia outfit, including a hand rubber, pocket inhaler. The inhaler will last a life time and extra bottles of the Hygeia Hygeia could cost but a few cents. A few drops of oil in the inhaler will last for days and the pure, soothing, antiseptic, healing air breathed deep in the air passages of your nose and throat, should keep you free from coughs, colds, influenza and catarrh all winter long. Pleasant to use, takes but a few minutes daily and is guaranteed to satisfy or money back.

And to say that an overwhelming sentiment favors the immediate ratification of the treaty.

Certainly in California, Utah and Wyoming as well as in Oregon, Washington and Montana—the states which practically elected Mr. Wilson in 1912—this is unquestionably true. The people in those states do not object to reservations but as soon as one asks the question as to the character of the reservations deemed wise, it is immediately declared that only reservations which do not mean new negotiations with Germany or the associated powers will be approved by the people. Senator Smoot of Utah is confronted now with the fact that President Wilson in the Mormon church has come out in favor of the covenant without qualifications. Senator Warren of Wyoming, facing a doubtful constituency which wants him to see that a league of nations is established and which will not approve of destructive reservations. This information was given to me by a well informed man interested in politics who has just made a canvass of League of Nations sentiment in all parts of Wyoming. I do not intend virtually the same impression in Utah. The western states have analyzed the treaty and covenant more than have the eastern states and have been won to the central idea of it. They think its imperfections can be cured when once the league begins to function and they are afraid of the consequences of a rejection of the treaty at this time especially when no substitute is offered to guarantee the peace of the world.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS PENDING

"The Board of Directors of the United States Steel Corporation are the representatives of nearly 150,000 stockholders, including from 50,000 to 70,000 employees," said the statement. "We are their servants and are selected to represent and protect their interests and also the interests of all our 250,000 employees, the majority of whom I think are not members of labor unions."

"Moreover I believe the corporation is under great obligations to the general public concerning the league in the pending strike. In these circumstances I would not at present assume to answer the question propounded to me."

"However, I will say for myself that questions of moral principle cannot be arbitrated nor compromised and in my opinion such questions are included in the present unfortunate struggle. I also think we can not negotiate or confer with Mr. Fitzpatrick and his associates as union labor leaders concerning our employees whom these gentlemen have volunteered to represent."

SAYS ARBITRATION WOULD END STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Appearing as labor's first witness in the Senate investigation of the steel strike, John Fitzpatrick of Chicago, chairman of the strikers' committee, declared today that an agreement by the United States Steel Corporation to arbitrate differences with its employees would result in an immediate end of the walk-out, which he said now affects 240,000 men.

Fitzpatrick's statement came after a six hours' recital before the Senate labor committee of the efforts to organize the steel workers and of the conditions which led to the strike. Had Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the steel corporation, met the worker's committee, the men would not have walked out, Fitzpatrick said, but an agreement for a conference now would result. In the men returning to work.

In his recital today, Fitzpatrick painted a lurid picture of conditions in the steel districts of western Pennsylvania. He declared there was a reign of blood and iron, there with deputy sheriffs, paid "cannon" and "gun-van" state constabulary as his his cohorts.

Is Sharply Questioned

Murder and assault of steel workers is of every day occurrence, he asserted in this recital. He sketched dramatically the story of the killing of one woman an organizer of mine workers, which occurred before the steel strike was called.

Fitzpatrick's deductions from this occurrence led to sharp questioning by senators.

"Do you feel that the steel company officials directly ordered the killing of this woman?" asked Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota.

"Yes, I do," Fitzpatrick responded. "I think they had a meeting and decided upon a murder."

"Oh, I don't think they passed a motion and left a record, if that's what you mean."

$60 a Day a More Fit Place

On subject of wages Fitzpatrick had two views. "The industry pays less than purveyors get," he said, at one point, but several times later he asserted that money was not the issue. "It's conditions," he declared. "The hours are terrible, the men tell us. The conditions are awful. Their women want more happiness."

Referring to $90 a day as the wage drawn by highly skilled steel workers, Fitzpatrick said this was a "mere pittance for the work they do." Average wages he said were about forty cents an hour.

CONFERENCE REFUSED BY BETHLEHEM HEAD

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—President E. G. Grace, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, has refused a conference to the steel workers' national committee and declares that his company will not depart from its present system of collective bargaining with its employees. William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, announced here last night.

After considering the steel company's reply Secretary Foster said that the national advisory committee decided to notify the employees of the Bethlehem company of Mr. Grace's attitude and refer the matter to the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers.

Says Strike Is Probable

Mr. Foster said that the national committee would be summoned to meet in Pittsburgh at the earliest possible moment. He indicated that the calling of a strike in the plants of the Bethlehem company to become effective Monday morning, September 29, was quite probable.

The Bethlehem Steel Company is the largest independent steel corporation in the United States employing between 40,000 and 50,000 men. Mr. Foster explained. The company has plants in South Bethlehem, Lehigh, Titusville, Reading and Steelton in Pennsylvania and Sparrow Point, Maryland. He said the workers in the Bethlehem plants are among the best organized in the country.

"There was a systematic effort to eliminate Americans. They have a harvest to reap now. These steel companies brought about the state of which they now complain."

"Under the efforts of the steel corporation, the hours of labor were always abnormally long. They never seemed satisfied until they had their men toiling seven days a week, 365 days a year. When the shifts changed, from day to night, they got them working 24 hours a day."

"The right of association, the attempt to organize, met with the sternest opposition by the steel corporation."

"The appeals coming to us from their employees were for help in organizing. Hundreds of the efforts were shattered by the detectives and the agencies in the company pay. More than 60 percent of all the private detective agency effort in this country has been directed to spying on employees, in mines and mills. They have been used as scout presenters to induce men to come over, not to get them to strike but to join."

"In the steel industry," he continued, "the men were discharged for merely talking of organizing or for organizing."

"There have been thousands of men watched so closely that when they found a hall the proprietor was told to lock the doors against them. Their meetings on rented ground have been broken up. The men were run down, dispersed and seen assailed."

"Only in the event of war, the labor leader declared, should the rights of free speech and assembly be restricted. They should not be, he said, for a 'private police corporation.'"

"I know that many of the public authorities in districts of Pennsylvania are under the direct domination of the United States Steel Corporation," the witness declared.

Unkind Comment.
The death recently took place in Ireland of a well-known singer who had a massive physique. This was rather a drawback in the case of certain sentimental songs which were hardly applicable to his girl. One Irishman, when in Dublin, he gave as an excuse the well-known Irish song, "I'm sitting by the stile, May, where we sat by the stile." An American person in the gallery exclaimed: "Ah, there, there wouldn't be room for the two of you now."

Dr. Robert Willes, who died in August, 1873, bequeathed £50, the interest on which was to be expended in the purchase of six Bibles, not exceeding the price of 7s 6d each, which should be "cast for by dice" on the communion table of St. Ives on the last Thursday of May, by six boys and six girls of the town. REMARKABLE ADDRESS BY CLEMENCEAU

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Premier Clemenceau's remarkable address in the chamber of deputies yesterday, in which he asked for the ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany, was made on his seventy-eighth birthday. If there was an impression that his words on the previous day during his colloquy with M. Barthou were a slight on America, the way he spoke of the "admirable impetuosity" with which America had rushed into the battle showed that no slight was intended. Applause rang through the chamber when the premier said: "Would you know my complete thoughts? Should there be no written treaty, I would count on America all the same. I can say we are firmly counting on the adoption of the treaty over there." "I have seen young Americans at the front," he continued, "and not one of them, whether his origin was German, Italian or Pole, wavered in the fight. When asked why they were there, they replied: 'For liberty.'"

The premier recalled how at one crisis the allies had to decide whether to defend Gallipoli or Paris. "A few days later," he continued, "Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain asked me what I had decided. I replied: 'France made Paris; Paris made France. I would burn Paris to save France.'"

Discovered "Arabian Nights." The "Arabian Nights" stories were translated into English from the Arabic by Antoine Galland, a French savant and traveler, who died in 1715. He obtained them in their original form during his visit to the East as an attaché of the French embassy at Constantinople.

SOCIETY

The following article from the Washington (D. C.) Post, will interest many local people as Mrs. Mullett, formerly Miss George Crawford, was a Portsmouth girl, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Crawford now of Washington, D. C.

"Water Lane Patriot" is the title of a book by George Merrick Mullett, just issued by the Century Company. It will be of especial interest to Washingtonians as this action of the day is laid chiefly in wartime Washington. Water Lane is a plucky little red-headed patriot, daughter of a Washington government official, who is caught up in a wave of enthusiasm to serve her country when it is beset by war.

Water Lane is 19 years old and her problem is to capitalize her patriotism for Uncle Sam. There is Jo-An of Ark, her beloved doll, with an outfit of exquisite doll clothes. Mothers are searching their souls for their country. Water Lane will sacrifice at whatever cost to her feelings, Jo-An of Ark for the sake of her country.

But what is only a beginning. Her adventures carry her from the intrepid leading of a trust company's president in his den to a storming of hearts at the Water Road Hospital, and as a grand finale, wedding her way into the "Welcome Home" parade. "The young people who followed some of Water Lane's adventures in the pages of the St. Nicholas Magazine will be interested to read the new chapters of the book." Mrs. Mullett, the author, was the wife of Harry Merrick, the one-time paragraph editor of The Washington Post. Some years after his death she married Richard Mullett, son of A. B. Mullett, who was for many years a resident of Georgetown, and a former supervising architect of the Treasury.

Mrs. Homer Fry of Robinson avenue, is entertaining this evening, guests for a musical honoring her guest, Miss Jane Fry of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Maurice Cooper entertained the R. F. I. Club last evening. The members enjoyed the first fall meeting. Among those present were: Emma Schirrmann, Holise Hicks, Ruby Hebbell, La Dora White, Mary McClure, Helen Hagg and Mildred Waller. Mrs. Mary McClure will be the hostess of the next meeting in two weeks at her home on Grandview avenue.

The members of the Second Presbyterian church choir are requested to meet at 7:30 this evening, for practice at the church.

Mrs. C. W. Brooks of 1728 Highland avenue was hostess of the Merry Twelve Club yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. J. D. Brooks and guest, Mrs. Paul Duffey of Hagerstown, Md. were guests. Arrangements were made by the members to entertain their husbands and friends with a banquet next Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nagelsch, 1115 1/2 High street.

At the meeting of the Trinity Ladies Aid Society Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Appel, the work for the coming year was arranged and plans were made for a banquet to be held in honor of the returned soldier boys of the church, and for the annual turkey dinner at Thanksgiving time. Fifty members attended. Mrs. N. E. Butler will entertain the next meeting at the parsonage.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Second Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday afternoon, September 30, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Fred Baker, 1415 Serengeti street. All members are urged to be present for the beginning of the fall work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tres have moved from 1708 Hutchins to 1123 Fernside street.

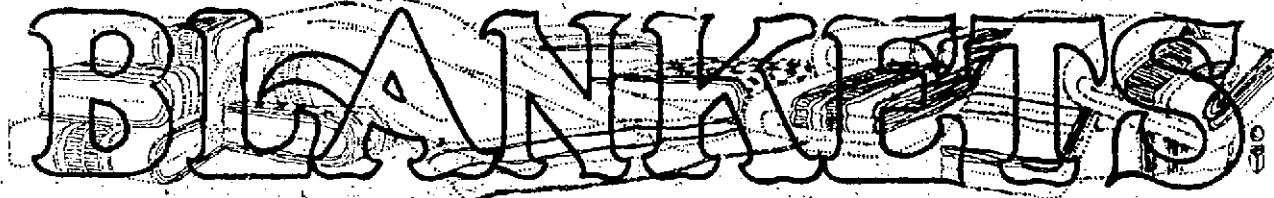

The T. H. B. Club members were entertained last evening at the Larder room at Friendship with a delicious chicken dinner. The members enjoyed the affair were: Mesdames Ernest Kidd, J. F. Taylor, T. C. Beatty, Carol Lyles, A. E. Cumliffe, William J. S. Giffey and J. McMullin.

Additional Statistics On Cemetery

The following is another installment of the state examiner's report of the audit of the cemetery books:

SALE OF LOTS AND GRAVES

All persons desiring to purchase lots are permitted to visit the grounds, examine the locations and make their selection. The superintendent of cemetery then issues a voucher, showing the location of the lot, number of square feet and price, which is presented to the clerk of the cemetery with the funds chargeable, after which a deed is issued for same.

It would seem that it has been an established custom to charge 50 cents per square foot for cemetery lots irrespective of their location, although the rules and regulations adopted July 20, 1900, make no provision as such a charge and so far as ascertainable, no rules have been adopted since said time tending to fix any definite price for such sales. It is our opinion that the said price was adopted prior to the passing of the rules and regulations of July 20, 1900, and since said time, they have continued to make such charges, although under rule 40 of said rules and regulations they repeated all laws which had theretofore been adopted.

As per the statement of the clerk of the cemetery a charge of $5.00 for an adult's grave and $1.00 for an infant's grave is made in certain sections while in the other sections of the cemetery a charge of $3.00 and $1.00 is made for grave space. So far as ascertainable no rules have been adopted fixing the price to be charged for grave space hence we are of the opinion that such charges have been arbitrarily adopted by the cemetery officials.

It would seem that the superintendent issues an order to the clerk for the purchase of graves, the clerk charging the amount against the undertaker in charge of the funeral, and at the end of the month, rendering a statement for the same.

It is useless to again comment upon this manner of doing public business as the same has been fully explained under the sub-heading "Burial Expenses" in the preceding pages of this report.

In addition to the sale of graves for immediate burial, graves are also reserved and paid for by certain remaining members of a family who wish to be buried beside their relatives who have previously died. The charges for reserved graves are the same as those for graves, being governed according to the location of the grave.

As per the statement of both the director of service and the cemetery clerk, persons purchasing graves in the single grave section are permitted, whenever possible, to select the location of the graves which they purchase.

During the investigation it was disclosed that in collecting for the burial of the infant of Mr. Harry Good, 1511 Gallia street, Mr. Roy C. Lynn, undertaker, made a charge of $7.00 as cemetery costs while the records of the city clerk disclosed that but $6.00 was deposited and paid into the city treasury. When questioned in regard to the matter Mr. Lynn stated that the grave must have cost more and advised asking Mr. Cline relative to the cost and location of the grave. Upon being questioned relative to said grave Mr. Cline said that it was a $5.00 grave (yet his order to the clerk stated it was $3.00) which, together with the charge of $2.00 for a burial permit, would make a charge of $7.00, the amount collected by the undertaker. As there was but $6.00 deposited there would be an under deposit by the undertaker of $1.00. In view of the facts as above stated, we are hereby rendering a finding for recovery in favor of the City of Portsmouth, Ohio, against Mr. Roy C. Lynn, undertaker, and Mr. Ralph Calvert, service director in the amount of $1.00.

The above amount of $1.00 was deposited in the city treasury on January 14, 1919, through pay-in order No. 171.

During the course of the audit it was disclosed that several grave spaces were sold by the superintendent, the proceeds from such sales being accounted for. Such sales are set up and fully explained under the sub-heading "Cemetery Superintendent's Collections" in the foregoing pages of this report.

The above irregularities are a few examples of the careless and indifferent manner in which the financial affairs of the cemetery are being conducted and, even though the law did not so require, the conditions as exist at present should certainly warrant a change.

CLEANING LOTS, ETC.

The work of cleaning all cemetery lots and graves is under the direct supervision of the cemetery superintendent, such authority being given him by the provision of rule 20.

It would seem that the board of public service when adopting the cemetery rules and regulations, July 20, 1900, failed to fix a set price to be charged for all such work done on lots located therein, leaving this responsibility rest entirely in the hands of the superintendent through the provisions of rule 15.

It would seem from the manner in which charges have been made, that a set price is charged for such work, the superintendent collecting at the same rate as the people had been accustomed to pay in former years.

While the superintendent is not to be criticized for the manner in which such charges are now being made for the care of lots, yet, we are inclined to believe that as long as a uniform scale of prices is not fixed by the director of service, there is left a loophole in which certain individuals might be able to secure a less price or estimate than others notwithstanding the fact that they may have a lot equally as large if not larger.

While the superintendent may not be criticized for the non-existence of a set price to be charged for the care of lots, etc., yet he is to be criticized for his failure to enforce the provisions of both rules 14 and 20 which provide that all work done must be paid for in advance.

The superintendent had quite a number of open accounts which were paid at the time of our audit, the same being fully commented upon in the preceding pages of our report under the heading "Accounts Receivable."

Had the superintendent carefully observed the law and rules and kept records in a proper manner, much time could have been saved, making it possible to enforce the provisions of the law in which his records were kept. We found it necessary to make a partial personal investigation which resulted in disclosing several discrepancies heretofore indicated.

While the city received some revenue from the care of lots, yet we are of the opinion that had the rules been carefully observed and the work efficiently done more revenue could have been procured by the city from this source.

It is the duty of the director of service to fix a set price to be charged for the various kinds of work to be done at the cemetery, such as cleaning lots, filling and filling graves, etc., and this should be done without further delay.

It is a further duty of the director of service to make all cemetery collections through his office as he alone is responsible for such collections in his report, the director issuing an order to the superintendent for the work done.

The director should refuse to issue any orders to the superintendent for work which has not been received, and he should warn the superintendent not to do any work other than that which he has orders to do.

By conducting the business in this manner he will not only observe the law but also tend to increase the efficiency of the cemetery work and also to lessen the chances for complaint among the lot and grave owners.

LAYING FOUNDATIONS

The work of laying foundations and setting corner posts is under the supervision of the superintendent, this supervision being entrusted to him through the provisions of rule 23, which reads in part as follows: "Foundations must be built of solid masonry grouted with good cement, or of concrete, and shall be at least five feet deep for monument and must be built by employees of the superintendent."

As disclosed by the records available, there was paid to the superintendent, during the period covered by our audit, $664.44 for the completion of such work. While the cash book indicated that the above amount had been collected from various monumental companies for such work, yet, there was not a single record kept by the superintendent tending to show the number of foundations, with the size of each, which had been put in for each company. Not only did he fail to keep a record of the work done during the month so that he could render a true and accurate account to each company of the work completed for them, since he was doing business on a monthly credit basis.

When questioned as to how he knew what to charge the various companies for work done during the month, Mr. Cline pulled a scrap of paper from his pocket containing a few figures on it showing how he kept the account until the end of the month. While the so-called memoranda had a few figures on it at the time, yet there was no verifiability as to its correctness as he may have had foundations and forgot to make note of same.

This method of keeping a record of charges might be excusable in a boy of twelve years, but is certainly unexplainable when kept by a man of mature years, and one who is charged with the responsibility of collecting and accounting for public revenue.

While the practice of doing business on a monthly credit basis is in utter disregard of the cemetery rules, yet, inasmuch as the rules were disregarded it became necessary for the superintendent to keep the proper records in order that a thorough audit may have been had. Not only was it necessary that he should have kept an account record, but he should have also kept a record of all orders for foundations, showing the size of each, as well as the price charged per cubic foot.

According to the provisions of rule 23 the following charges should have been made:

Foundations	$.25 per cubic foot
Foundations for grave markers	1.00 each
Setting corner posts	.15 and up

Because of the fact that the superintendent kept no records, either of the size and number of foundations laid nor prices charged, it was impossible to make an audit of this division of the cemetery accounts other than to make an investigation as to the amounts paid by the companies.

During the investigation both local monumental companies were interviewed, as well as letters addressed to some of the known companies which had work completed in the cemetery during our audit; the investigation disclosing a total collection of $67.77, which was unaccounted for by the superintendent, the same being fully commented upon under the foregoing heading "Superintendent's Collections."

In answer to a question asked the Portsmouth Monumental Company the manager stated that they used to pay 20 cents per cubic foot but the price had been recently increased to 25 cents per cubic foot while the manager of the Teerless Granite Company, in answer to a like question, stated that it was his opinion that they paid 30 cents per cubic foot although the bills were not itemized so as to disclose such information.

If the charges for foundation work were as per the statements of local monumental companies then not only a uniformity of prices has not been observed but also the prices have not been in conformity with the rules and regulations.

Inasmuch as no records were kept as to the charges for foundation work it is impossible to verify the correctness of the amounts received from the monumental companies.

The fact that no tangible record was kept of this work is another evidence that the superintendent either was negligent to a degree that is intolerable or else he, for purposes unknown, was attempting to prevent a verification of his accounts—either being unskilful to relieve him from such responsibility.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26.—His silence of several days at the ninth hour James Morgan, 51, Wilcox county negro, who went to his death the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary this morning, unsisted by wives or friends pleaded pitiful mercy. Warden Thomas termed electrocution one of the most merciful of recent years. Morgan was convicted of the murder of Alcega Graham, a black railroad conductor, following attention after Morgan claimed had been carried past a death point.

TOKIO, Sept. 26.—Japan is planning officially to invite China to confer on the Siam situation after Japan has ratified the peace treaty. This fact was communicated to the correspondent today by officials, who added that Japan naturally could not compel China to accept the invitation.

"Japan," said one official, "is anxious to settle the question of the restoration of Siam as quickly as possible, but if China declines to negotiate Japan will be obliged to wait the present conditions as to Siam."

Ford Stolen

A Ford touring car owned by William Tatman, McDerpott farmer, was stolen last night from Sixth and Chillicothe streets, while Peter Tatman, son of the owner of the machine, was attending the wrestling match in the hall over the Victory Cafeteria.

The machine was a 1914 model and carried license number 215022. The theft was reported to the police and the authorities of nearby cities were notified to keep a lookout for the missing car, no trace of which had been secured this morning.

GRASS ON FIRE; ALARM TURNED IN

Grass and rubbish burning on the vacant lot in the rear of Wm. E. Good's barber shop, Chillicothe street near Fourth caused someone to send in a fire alarm about 8:10 last night from Fourth and Chillicothe streets. This call from the heart of the business district brought the Seventh street and East End fire companies to the scene in short order and the fire was quickly extinguished. The rubbish was burning on an old board fence, and caused big flames for a short time.

PLANNING SHACKS FOR PATIENTS

Auditor S. D. Eckhart and Commissioners J. H. Appel, W. O. Shively and Jacob Kuhner have returned from Chillicothe where they attended a joint meeting of the trustees of the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis sanitarium and the Commissioners of the six counties which maintain the institution.

The meeting was arranged by Trustee Conrad Roth of this city to consider plans for the construction of shacks for the use of patients in the institution. The plan is to build a new building to house the patients in the institution. The plan is to build a new building to house the patients in the institution.

WOMEN WILL UNITE IN CITY CLUB TO AID ALL MOVEMENTS FOR CITY'S GOOD

The Woman's City Club is not a militant organization. In truth it is but a band which will hold to their high standard of public life the women who developed in the world war the altruistic characteristics which drew them from narrow home life to the wider horizon of public service.

These women will never be able to go back to the old life. For awhile there will be empty hearts as the Red Cross work has ended but the Woman's City Club will fill the vacancy. It will not demand the time but it will expect the thought of these women in planning to assist the authorities in keeping the city a place of beauty, health and cleanliness.

The club will cooperate with various movements which will better the city's morals, health, and general civic conditions.

During this week-end, women are visiting neighbors to see if they can encourage enrollment in the Woman's City Club. A number of women are still anxious to let the leading majority try it out first and instead of going ahead with a good idea, are holding back to see what is going to happen. This attitude cripples an organization a great deal, of course, but it is expected that several thousand of the 6000 women in the city will enroll. Cooperation is the keynote of success in carrying out an enterprise and the cooperation of the women of Portsmouth is what is desired in the organization of a Woman's City Club. There are similar clubs in Cincinnati, Chicago, and other cities. A club of this kind in Portsmouth will mean cooperation with city officials and organizations like the Bureau of Community Service, Red Cross, and others having the welfare of the city at heart.

EDWARD STRITMATTER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF MASONIC LEAGUE

At an enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Masonic Bowling League held on Thursday evening at the Temple, Edward Stritmatter, a bowler of much determination and a gentleman of the highest order, was elected president of the league organization for the ensuing year, succeeding C. J. Nodder, whose administration was of the highest possible order. C. A. Burdette was chosen secretary, succeeding Frank J. Baker, who made a recent for efficiency that will stand as a tribute to his thoroughness and devotion to duty. Albert L. H. was named as treasurer, succeeding William H. Haebecker, who after serving in that capacity for several years asked to be relieved. The executive committee or board of directors, will consist of C. E. Nodder, H. K. Moore and Frank A. Spencer, Mr. Moore being the only director to succeed himself.

At the meeting last evening it was found that fully 60 Masons have expressed themselves as wanting to bowl and it is possible the league will be expanded from an eight club affair to one of twelve clubs, inasmuch as it was decided to limit each club to five men. A report from Secretary Baker showed that the Masonic League can have the alleys for four nights in the week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The directors were authorized to interview the other alley owners and arrange if possible to take care of any additional clubs. Incidentally, should this arrangement not be made, a committee consisting of William Clayton, Thomas J. Deppen and John Millard was named to confer with the younger members of the order and see if they care to join the league or organize a league of their own. This committee will be pleased to meet with the younger Masons at any time and present a plan whereby they can be accommodated. The members of the league want the younger Masons to know they are vitally interested in them and hope a plan can be evolved that will make it possible for them to get in the game.

The season for 1919-20 will open on October 15. The directors were empowered to arrange the teams as they see fit, the members having the utmost confidence in their fairness. There will, of course, be a shake-up all along the line and the teams will be as evenly balanced as possible. All games will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock, the teams taking the alleys at 7:25, each player being given two practice balls. The games should be over by not later than 9:15, which will throw the alleys open to all who care to bowl after the games come to a close. A schedule will shortly be prepared, but not until the directors interview the other alley owners and it is definitely decided the number of clubs composing the league.

The past season was one of the most successful in the history of the league and judging from the interest manifested in the meeting last evening the coming season will be the banner year of the league.

The meeting last evening was made all the more pleasant through the efforts of Messrs. H. K. Moore, William E. Zottmann and George Patton, who passed around the cigars and presided at the punch bowl. An entire carton of Nabiscoes was consumed. President Edward Stritmatter taking the "empty" carton home as a souvenir of the occasion.

Dear Sirs—I feel it my duty to speak a word in behalf of your wonderful medicine (Nerv-Worth). I have suffered with a bad stomach trouble for two or three years. Could eat nothing without suffering with palpitation of the heart, smothering and nerves in a terrible shape. I had tried five or six different doctors, but could get no relief whatever. Seeing testimonials for Nerv-Worth in a paper I decided to try a bottle. I felt like a new man after the first bottle. I can heartily recommend Nerv-Worth for a family medicine. I would not be without it in my house.

Story Provided by John Lynch
For Famous Star

John Lynch has written an exceedingly interesting story for Doris Dalton's new Thomas H. Ince-Palmer picture in "Quicksands" which will be presented at the Lyric theatre tonight. In this picture Miss Dalton turns to the emotional in a drama of the city, showing the trials of a young wife whose husband is falsely accused of forging a check on his firm and sent to prison for five years.

To provide a livelihood for herself and her little girl, the wife gets work in a cabaret conducted by a ward he who admires her. To this place comes the junior member of the firm, in which her husband worked and smitten with her charm. Believing that she may find out something to his advantage she leads the young fellow on and on and the very night her

Farmer Wants Service When He Buys Tractor

Service is the salient factor to the farmer in purchasing a tractor for his land. Although the modern tractor is sturdy and designed to withstand hard usage, there is always a possibility of trouble, through accident—for instance striking a hidden stump—and during the busy season it is important that repairs be effected quickly.

This service first depends upon the seller and next upon the owner. The seller must realize that a tractor is successful only when it is backed up by service that makes good the faults of the operator as well as the machine. This is accomplished by the seller: By carrying in stock every part that is likely to fail from accident, neglect or wear, so that there will be no waiting for parts.

By taking care that the man who sells and serves is fitted to deliver the owner what he needs.

By providing motor transportation and necessary tools for quick, efficient service.

By helping the owner with troubles that develop in the field.

By maintaining facilities for competent and economical repair jobs.

By keeping the owner familiar with the operation and care, so that he will not become indifferent.

And by the owner: By knowing the principles of all tractors, and especially his own.

By accepting the manufacturer's instruction as authority on all points concerning his tractor.

By familiarizing himself with the construction of every part of his tractor and its proper function.

By seeing that his tractor constantly receives intelligent handling and repairs.

Greatest Treat Of The Season At Millbrook Sunday P. M.

There is joy—great joy among Portsmouth fans because of the classy attraction booked for them at Millbrook Sunday afternoon when Gabe's All Stars, semi-pro champions of this part of the country, hook up with the Charleston, W. Va., aggregation of not only ball players, but also to start promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

For some time Manager William N. Gableman has been trying to book the Charleston team. This club has been playing steadily at home for several weeks and has been drawing large crowds, and Manager Watt Powell, who is well known in this city, was loath to take his club away from home. However, Manager Gableman made such an offering for a double header here that Manager Powell could not turn it down and decided to bring his stars here on next Sunday.

There is no question that the attraction for Sunday is the best of the season so far. While Manager Gableman has several cards up his sleeve, nevertheless the fans will unite in saying that the games of Sunday should draw the banner crowd of the season. Charleston has a club of which any Portsmouth boys, "Irish" Conwell and "Buddy" Beers, are two of the most popular men on its pay roll. The fans of Portsmouth will recall the great work of these two lads when playing on the local team of the O. S. I. Both are hard workers, conscientious as well as skillful and their many admirers will be out in force to see them on Sunday afternoon. Conwell, who was with Evansville, Ind., in the Three League this season and was regarded as the Helge Grob of that league. He had his best season, leading all third basemen with the stick and feeding up to his usual high standard. Several big league clubs were after him, but his manager, Johnny Nee, held out for a cracking big price and refused to part with his services. Beers has been out of the professional ranks for some time although each season he receives many offers. He is still full of pep and will keep the visiting fielders on their toes all the time.

One of the real stars of the Charleston aggregation is Pitcher Blake who has signed a contract with the Cincinnati Reds for next year. Scouts who have seen him in action pronounce him ripe for the big show and the fans of Portsmouth will watch his work with a great deal of interest.

Kenna, who will pitch one of the games for Charleston, is a former Ohio State League and hurler with much speed. Manager Watt Powell will hold down left field in a great defensive player and capable of holding up his end of the load in any company.

The fans of Portsmouth can rest assured that the All Stars will be in shape to uphold their reputation Sunday. Eddie Donalds, who recently returned from the Texas League where he was regarded as the premier pitcher for the All Stars, will pitch one of the games for the All Stars. He is in tip-top shape and can well be proud and twirl the Portsmouth boys, "Irish" Conwell and "Buddy" Beers, are two of the most popular men on its pay roll. BASEBALL ENTHUSIASTS FROM ALL PARTS OF WORLD WILL POUR INTO CINCINNATI FOR SERIES

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 25.—Baseball enthusiasts from all parts of the country will come to Cincinnati to see the Cincinnati Nationals and the Chicago White Sox clash in the World series games. If letters requesting seat reservations and hotel accommodations can be relied upon.

President "Garry" Herrmann of the Cincinnati Nationals was besieged weeks in advance of the closing of the National League season for tickets for the games by Cincinnati followers of the "Reds" and by "fans" from every section of the country, who desired to witness the games to be played in this city. Hotels also reported that hundreds of requests for rooms had been received. To give every attention and convenience to visitors during the World's series games, the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce planned to co-operate with the Cincinnati club management.

Acting on the request of President August Herrmann, the Convention and Publicity Department of the Chamber of Commerce named a special committee of five to diverse means for best meeting the desires of Mr. Herrmann.

The committee arranged to establish a hotel bureau, in charge of a competent staff to look after all requests for accommodations. It was decided to list every available hotel room, and to add to these accommodations a survey of every rooming board, where visitors could be lodged. All these rooms were to be inspected in advance so there could be no question concerning their desirability.

Word was sent to Washington, D. C., requesting the co-operation of the Railroad Administration in the matter of obtaining desirable parking places for special Pullman cars carrying large parties to the games. It was expected that many visitors would utilize their cars for sleeping purposes while in the city, providing they had parking places.

Arrangements also were in preparation for suitable parking places for the automobiles of out-of-town visitors and for parking places in the vicinity of the baseball park during the games.

For the protection of persons visiting Cincinnati and Chicago during the playing of the series, detectives who are specialists in dealing with pickpockets and auto thieves will be very active in both cities. A large number of Chicago plain clothes men will be on duty here while the teams are in Cincinnati and in return the local experts will mingle with the crowds when the scene shifts to Chicago.

That was when the pickpocket class gathered from the four quarters of the country to follow the pennant winning baseball teams to the fields of world's series combats. But times have changed, say the police, and now it is easier to steal automobiles than to extract a fat purse from the pocket of an excited fan.

The professional "dip" still attends world's championship battles but his profession has fallen into decay. The one-time adept at snatching a sparkler from a scarf pin whose artful methods combined courage and a sort of legendary main is as scarce as radium, according to detectives.

Picking pockets always was hazardous and stealing automobiles has become profitable with even less element of risk. So the pickpocket fraternity has lost many members to the easier means of unlawful profit, say the plain clothes men.

Besides, of late years the police have established the pickpocket pretty thoroughly. As a world series or other national gathering takes the stage, detectives go on watch at the railway stations.

Some "dips" escape the net, however, and practice their art with more or less success. A world series game invariably is the scene of operations for a number of them. Other thieves are there, too. The automobile thieves predominate.

In three days of world series combats between the Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox in Chicago last year, the police arrested 55 suspected pickpockets and auto thieves. Nearly 100 motor cars were driven away from the vicinity of the baseball park by persons not their owners. The majority were recovered but many were not.

Nearly 100 motor cars were driven away from the vicinity of the baseball park by persons not their owners. The majority were recovered but many were not.

For the protection of persons visiting Cincinnati and Chicago during the playing of the series, detectives who are specialists in dealing with pickpockets and auto thieves will be very active in both cities. A large number of Chicago plain clothes men will be on duty here while the teams are in Cincinnati and in return the local experts will mingle with the crowds when the scene shifts to Chicago.

That was when the pickpocket class gathered from the four quarters of the country to follow the pennant winning baseball teams to the fields of world's series combats. But times have changed, say the police, and now it is easier to steal automobiles than to extract a fat purse from the pocket of an excited fan.

The professional "dip" still attends world's championship battles but his profession has fallen into decay. The one-time adept at snatching a sparkler from a scarf pin whose artful methods combined courage and a sort of legendary main is as scarce as radium, according to detectives.

Picking pockets always was hazardous and stealing automobiles has become profitable with even less element of risk. So the pickpocket fraternity has lost many members to the easier means of unlawful profit, say the plain clothes men.

Besides, of late years the police have established the pickpocket pretty thoroughly. As a world series or other national gathering takes the stage, detectives go on watch at the railway stations.

Some "dips" escape the net, however, and practice their art with more or less success. A world series game invariably is the scene of operations for a number of them. Other thieves are there, too. The automobile thieves predominate.

In three days of world series combats between the Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox in Chicago last year, the police arrested 55 suspected pickpockets and auto thieves. Nearly 100 motor cars were driven away from the vicinity of the baseball park by persons not their owners. The majority were recovered but many were not.

There is no question that the attraction for Sunday is the best of the season so far. While Manager Gableman has several cards up his sleeve, nevertheless the fans will unite in saying that the games of Sunday should draw the banner crowd of the season. Charleston has a club of which any Portsmouth boys, "Irish" Conwell and "Buddy" Beers, are two of the most popular men on its pay roll. The fans of Portsmouth will recall the great work of these two lads when playing on the local team of the O. S. I. Both are hard workers, conscientious as well as skillful and their many admirers will be out in force to see them on Sunday afternoon. Conwell, who was with Evansville, Ind., in the Three League this season and was regarded as the Helge Grob of that league. He had his best season, leading all third basemen with the stick and feeding up to his usual high standard. Several big league clubs were after him, but his manager, Johnny Nee, held out for a cracking big price and refused to part with his services. Beers has been out of the professional ranks for some time although each season he receives many offers. He is still full of pep and will keep the visiting fielders on their toes all the time.

Doyle Signs Benton

Catcher Benton of the local team has been signed by Scout Billy Doyle of the Detroit team. He is a real catcher and is going to be heard from. Benton throws with marvelous accuracy, runs bases well and takes a healthy cut at the pill. He will be sent to Springfield in the Carolina league to get a little more seasoning before joining the Tigers.

Jackson's Eligible List

Manager David Grimes, of P. H. S. football team, has received the following eligible list from Jackson High:

Thomas Washam, Myron Evans, Edward Callahan, Carl Dawson, Harry Senlock, Cyril Mayhew, Arthur

These players will likely all get a workout in the game there Saturday.

P. H. S. Meets Jackson High Here On Saturday

Portsmouth High School will open its football season at home tomorrow when it battles Jackson High. The game will start promptly at 1:15 p. m. at Millbrook Park, owing to the fact that the Solway Baseball team will use the field later in the afternoon.

Coach Hess has received the Jackson lineup, which appears to be a strong one.

The coach made public today the following probable lineup of the players as they will take the field, together with the eleven representing the Jacksonians.

Here it is:

Portsmouth	Position	Jackson
Hopkins	QB	Jenkins
Chabot	RB	Senlock
Roth	LB	Albert
Cravy	CB	Home
Cumfley	LB	Harberger
Anderson	CB	Mayhew
Bryant	LB	Dawson
Stanton	QB	Stephenson
Multer	RB	Callahan
Morton-Wilson	LB	Washam
Moritz	CB	Gilliam

Jackson reserves: Evans for tackle or guard; Davis for guard.

Portsmouth reserves: Doll for guard or tackle; Fennell for half-back or end; Thurman for quarterback; Grimes for center, and Ogier for fullback.

The officials will probably be Karl Zoellner, C. A. Burnett, formerly affiliated with Carnegie Tech., and Homer C. Seiby.

From the above lineup it can be seen that P. H. S. presents a strong eleven, having all experienced gridlers and a host of good material, while Jackson is rated this as having one of the strongest aggregations in the history of the school.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—Champion Panama-weight Pete Herman, of New Orleans, was last evening matched for a ten round contest with Sammy Sandow before the National Athletic Union of Kentucky at the K. Sandow is a brother of Dave Sandow, who fought here recently.

HUNTINGTON, Sept. 26.—Rudely the plans are maturing for the "Mill-kitt Day" which will be held at League Park next Sunday when the Boosters meet the champions of the coalfields going under the name of the Guyan Valley Stars. The team is the pick of all the teams in the coal fields, a couple local players and two from the C. and O. team. They claim to be the champions of the coal fields but the Boosters have highest hopes of taking this all out of them when the Sunday sun goes down.

Scout Billy Doyle stated today when he was in Cincinnati several days ago that he recently increased his offer of $20,000 for Outfielder Mellers of St. Louis to $25,000 but Manager Branch Rickey turned it down.

Develop Greater Beauty of Tone With Use

While quite the contrary is true of most pianos. We are all familiar with the piano that develops a metallic tone after a few years use.

You don't want that kind. You want one that your children and grand-children will enjoy, as well as give you pleasure for a life-time.

The children can't practice away it's marvelous beauty of tone because it is the permanent result of careful planning and construction.

Portsmouth And Ironton Solvays Teams To Play

What is expected to be one of the hardest fought baseball games of the season will take place tomorrow afternoon at Millbrook Park. Immediately after the high school football game, when the team representing the Portsmouth Solvay Co. will tackle the Ironton Solvay aggregation. This will be the second game of the three game series and should Portsmouth win, the locals will have taken two out of three. Fans will recall the local team won the first game, and for this reason Ironton will fight hard to keep in the running.

The game will develop into a battle of southpaws, according to present arrangements. Big Joe, Willis will pitch for Ironton, and Portsmouth fans do not need to be told that he is "some" pitcher. "Doc" Bangeman may be called upon to pitch for the locals and he is a match for Willis and his cohorts any day of the week, and particularly on Saturday afternoon.

It is announced that while no admission will be charged for the game, that a collection will be taken up, the proceeds of which will be used to furnish the fans high-class attraction with the sting knocked out of it cost.

The phrase "Giving the raspberry" was coined on Broadway. And George M. Cohan made it a part of the English language by declaring that the actors on strike did that to him. It is the theatrical idea of sabotaging in the strike. The phrase has finally broken into print and even into the staid old Evening Post, where editors come to work in frock coats. When George Bernard Shaw used "bloody" in his slang usage in a play the audience felt that all was over with the English language and when George M. Cohan sneered bitterly upon "the raspberry" it assumed genuine importance in the strike news and all the copy writers agreed to let it pass. In London theaters "the raspberry" has a synonym, "the blit". Every now and then the expression is heard in conies with raw deals. Thomas Hardy unwittingly gave the phrase a literary standing when he wrote his poem, "The Blitful" and had these lines "the grave to be her false one's honor. And then they were sealed. And then the clever bit of camouflage, who when wooing gave her the blit."

WILSON ILL; CANCELS TOUR GARY REFUSES STRIKERS' OFFER TO ARBITRATE

Grayson Orders Wilson Back To The Capital

WICHITA, KAN., Sept. 26—President Wilson today cancelled the remainder of this tour under orders from Admiral Cary T. Grayson the president's physician and will return to Washington direct from Wichita. Admiral Grayson gave illness and physical exhaustion as the reason for his action.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—After being shown an Associated Press dispatch quoting John Fitzgerald, director-general of the steel strikers, as saying the walk-out would end immediately if the United States Steel Corporation would arbitrate differences, Albert H. Gary, director of the corporation, declined in a statement last night, speaking for himself, that he believed the board of directors "can not negotiate in conference with Mr. Fitzgerald or his assistants."

our employees whom these gentlemen have volunteered to represent.

SAYS ARBITRATION WOULD END STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Appearing as labor's first witness in the senate investigation of the steel strike, John Fitzgerald of Chicago, chairman of the strikers' committee, declared today that an agreement by the United States Steel Corporation to arbitrate differences with its employees would result in an immediate end of the walk-out which he said now affects 310,000 men.

Fitzgerald's statement came after a six hours' recital before the senate labor committee of the efforts to organize the steel workers and of the negotiations which led to the strike. He said Judge Albert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the steel corporation, met the workers' committee, the men would not have walked out. Fitzgerald said, but an agreement for a conference now would not result in the men returning to work.

In his recital today, Fitzgerald painted a lurid picture of conditions in the steel districts of western Pennsylvania. He declared there was a "depression of blood and iron" there, with "dozens of thousands of men" and "dozens of thousands of families" who were "starving and suffering."

Is Seriously Questioned
Murder and assault of steel workers is of every day occurrence, he alleged, and in this connection he photocopied and distributed the story of the killing of one woman an organizer of public workers, which occurred before the steel strike was called.

Fitzgerald's deductions from this occurrence led to sharp questioning by senators. "Do you feel that the steel company officials directly ordered the killing of this woman?" asked Senator Sterling.

Republican, South Dakota.

"Yes, I do," Fitzgerald responded. "Think they had a meeting and decided upon a murder?"

"Oh, I don't think they passed a motion and left a record, if that's what you mean."

$60 a Day a Mere Pittance
On subject of wages Fitzgerald had two views. "The industry pays less than purveyors get," he said at one point, but several times later he asserted that money was not the issue.

"It's conditions," he declared. "The hours are terrible, the men to us. The conditions are awful. Their women want more happiness."

Referring to $60 a day as the wage paid by highly skilled steel workers, Fitzgerald said this was a "mere pittance for the work they do." Average wages he said were about forty cents an hour.

CONFERENCE REFUSED BY BETHLEHEM HEAD
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26—President E. G. Grace, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, has refused a conference to the steel workers' national committee and declared that his company will not depart from its present system of collective bargaining with its employees.

William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, announced here last night.

After considering the steel company's reply Secretary Foster said that the national advisory committee had decided to notify the employees of the Bethlehem company of Mr. Grace's attitude and refer the matter to the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers.

Says Strike Is Probable
Mr. Foster said that the national committee would be summoned to meet in Pittsburgh at the earliest possible moment. He indicated that the calling of a strike in the plants of the Bethlehem company to become effective Monday morning, September 29, was quite probable.

The Bethlehem Steel Company is the largest independent steel corporation in the United States employing between 10,000 and 20,000 men. Mr. Foster explained. The company has plants in South Bethlehem, Lebanon, Titusville, Reading and Scranton in Pennsylvania and Sparrow Point, Maryland. He said the workers in the Bethlehem plants are among the best organized in the country.

GOMPERS TO BE CALLED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Continuing its investigation of the steel strike the senate labor committee planned to go deeper today into the underlying causes of the strike. The committee had called Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and chairman of the first committee formed to organize the steel workers.

ARMY-NAVY U. S. MARINES LANDED IN DALMATIA

ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 26—The balloon race between the army and the navy, which is to start here late today, bids fair to furnish a record flight, according to experts, owing to the lack of restrictions placed upon the contestants.

The flight will not be a non-stop affair, but the contestants may land at pleasure and as often as they desire, the only regulation imposed being that they cannot take on gas after the start.

Each side will be represented by a team of three balloons. They will be identified by banners, the army balloons carrying white banners with red letters telling the aviation field they represent, while the navy will have white signs with blue lettering.

The first balloon is scheduled to start at 6:05 p. m.

The pilots and their aides are: For the army—Lieutenant Colonel J. W. S. West and Second Lieutenant William E. Hoffman, of Fort Omaha; Second Lieutenant I. H. Coulter and Harold E. Hine, of Brooks field, San Antonio; Captain E. P. Phillips and First Lieutenant Byron T. Bart, Langley, Virginia.

For the navy—Lieutenant H. W. Hoyt and Ensign F. W. Beckwith, U. S. Naval station, Akron, Ohio; Ensign J. H. Stevens and Lieutenant W. K. Reed, U. S. naval station, Pensacola, Florida; Lieutenant R. E. Emerson and Ensign F. L. Shuman, Washington, D. C.

REBEL CHIEFS UNDER VILLA'S BANNER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Information that all the revolutionary leaders in Mexico, with the exception of Felix Diaz, have accepted Francisco Villa as their chief and placed at his disposal their arm, munitions and money, has reached Washington. Then a Villa courier who left the revolutionary headquarters in Durango about two weeks ago.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 26—American marines landed from a torpedo boat destroyers to compel the Italians to evacuate Trau, Dalmatia, according to a dispatch received here from Spalato, a short distance east of Trau. The dispatch adds that the Italians left after the inhabitants fled on them and that Jug-Slav troops took over the town from the Americans.

AMERICANS TAKE HAND
PARIS, Sept. 26—American naval forces have taken a hand in the swiftest moving events along the eastern shore of the Adriatic, according to dispatches from Copenhagen. United States destroyers, appearing off the port of Trau when Italian soldiers attempted to force their way into the town, brought the attack to a sudden stop.

The Italian retreating hastily, it is said. One Italian armored car, with its crew of an officer and three privates, fell into the hands of the Jug-Slavs who were defending the place. The prisoners were taken over by American marines and transferred to an Italian ship. Serbian troops arrived at Trau soon after the marines were put ashore and the town was turned over to them by the marines who returned to their ships, according to reports.

Wilson Rejects Proposals
The crown council of Italy met yesterday under the presidency of King Victor Emmanuel, and the belief is expressed that the council had before it a reply from President Wilson to the Italian proposals intended to settle the problem of the disposition of Fiume.

Advices from Rome do not indicate the nature of the reply, but in Italian circles here it is said that the proposals were rejected by Mr. Wilson, who also threatened an economic boycott if Italy persisted in holding Fiume, in defiance of the allied powers. American delegates would not discuss the report.

The D'Annunzio forces at Fiume are said to have extended their lines back by the city so as to include high ground strategically necessary for the defense of the city. The city of Fiume, which is really a part of Fiume, is to be taken over by Captain D'Annunzio. At present Fiume is occupied by the queen's brigade of the Italian army, which has not joined the insurgents. Comparatively good order prevails in the city, it is said.

The political situation in Italy is apparently near a crisis, according to reports, the advocates of the annexation of Fiume includes some of the more powerful elements.

MINE WORKERS CHIEF WILL NOT ATTEND

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26—John L. Lewis, of Springfield, Ill., acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, today wrote President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, declining the invitation to become of the labor representatives at President Wilson's "roundtable" conference, opening at Washington, October 6. Lack of confidence in the conference and dissatisfaction with the personnel of the delegates selected to represent the general public were among the impelling reasons for Mr. Lewis' action.

THE END DRAWS NEAR

THE news from Russia has lent encouragement to hope for better things in that distracted land soon. The warriors for a sound and sensible government appear to be growing in strength and gradually narrowing the power of Bolshevism. Important cities in the south have been relieved and the march towards Moscow goes bravely and steadily on.

It is most inexplicable how this gross and grotesque thing, Bolshevism, undoubtedly a small numerical minority, could rise to power and to control a great country, perpetrating every indignity, horror and calamity on it for two long years. May be though the frightful thing is but another varied demonstration of the penury which must pay for becoming like a raging beast and causing slaughter and wrong of war.

Be that so, the world has enough of a horrible example and its people, eagerly and anxiously, for the speeding of the day when peace and sturdiness of Lenin and Trotsky, dangling at rope's end will proclaim that peace and right again hold sway over the earth and all the quarters thereof.

AN UNHAPPY CONTRAST

TWO items in the Mexican news, of Thursday, stood out in violent comparison with each other. The first read, in substance: Owing to lack of funds two hundred and fifty teachers are to be closed. Most of these are in the City of Mexico and it is estimated 150,000 pupils will discontinue their studies.

The second announced that Caruso was coming on a tour of Mexico and he would receive $77,000 for about a dozen concerts.

So it appears human nature is very much alike. Mexico City can't pay to educate her youth, but her citizens will pay $5, $10, $20, $50, $100 and $1000 to hear a man sing a few songs.

Yes, we reckon that's just like Mexico and it is also like some other places. Ohio, for instance, where there are districts that refuse to tax themselves to educate their children, letting them go to school, or else passing the hat to the balance of the state.

WANT SOME OF OUR MEAT

BRITISH manufacturers are asking that the import duties on American trucks and tractors be considerably increased, avowing that unless this be done home industry in this singular line will perish.

Thus far the government has refused to grant the prayer, in doing so showing that as against competitors from this side the British makers already have a protection of eighty-five per cent, which is enough.

In this connection it would be interesting to know what American cars are selling for in England. It is a bit peculiar that, at a duty of eighty-five per cent, in other words, having their increased near one hundred per cent and yet prove highly attractive to British buyers.

Clearly we might profit, in the knowledge that we get our fair share's worth in buying here at home and that all these wise advertisements against the American practice of turning out things in quantity as against the slow production of quality there, in substance and we find both in production and in worth. Furthermore we might also learn that we do not need the high wall of tariff protection against the onslaughts of the foreign competitor.

THE UNANIMOUS DEMAND

ONE hears much of the need of more dwelling houses for Portsmouth and notwithstanding many new ones are being erected, to be occupied as soon as completed there appears no abatement in the demand.

That leads some enthusiasts to claim Portsmouth is the fastest growing town in the country. That may flatter local vanity, but it is hardly stating so much as an approximate truth.

It is inexplicable how every town in the country is growing, on those not classed as industrial, and the universal cry is for more and still more homes. The one demand is as insistent in the tropics too as it is in the smaller city. In New York, this week, a whole estate, situated away out on 140 street, was broken up into lots and offered for sale at public auction, at a sales room away from the city. Buyers crowded to it so numerous that the large picture would not hold all who sought admission.

Bidding was brisk and every one of the 141 lots was sold just as was the brick bidding for it reached the maximum. Real estate men say it exceeded anything of the sort ever held in the city in the land, and nearly every purchase meant a new house.

APPLIES THE ONE REMEDY

THERE is no anecdote more frequently recounted than that about the old country doctor, who could cure anything if he could only throw it into fits.

Congress reminds of that country doctor, after a fashion. It has one cure for everything ill that afflicts the body politics, an investigation.

Still unlike the old pill peddler congress has no sympathy with the patient, it is simply trying to save itself, the first and only concern.

Just now the country is confronted with a critical situation in the steel strike. It began Monday, congress ordered an investigation Tuesday. It is an easy way to slide away from a vexing and may be disastrous problem, so congress hopes.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

I can scarcely eat or sleep, thinking Nelson would be. How much business about this New York plan. No one Nelson is apt to contribute to the party, knows how I long to go East. Mother's reply. And how much we could and dad are worked in. "Centerville, count upon to live on, for I understand that I can never remember a day when the cost of living in New York is very I didn't dream some wild dream of high.

There is one thing Jim and I have agreed upon, and that is a decision utterly different from all the rest. I must be a "changeling" for I never agreed upon, and that is a decision utterly different from all the rest. I must be a "changeling" for I never agreed upon, and that is a decision utterly different from all the rest.

Jim and I have talked the scheme over every night and morning for a week. My heart cries, "Wait! Think it over well." For it seems the plan is over well. For it seems the plan is over well. For it seems the plan is over well.

A man who will stoop to the slay more cash at regular times and a little over Jim's back is turned is not above business treachery.

Yet he does nothing actually objectionable; nothing I can bring myself to tell Jim about. I did hate at it, but Jim chose not to understand.

Now the question is, shall I assert myself (I think I've been more inclined to assert myself since that talk the other day with Mrs. West, of New York?) and try to dissuade Jim from entering any partnership with Nelson?

Or shall I try to think, as Jim does, that he is a splendid business man and that this is Jim's big chance to launch out in his profession?

I am of a practical mind and there are some things I must find out definitely from Jim. Exactly how much he is making here. Whether it is entirely in the form of salary or part commission on engineering contracts obtained. What the arrangement with

And they entered one of the smartest cafes on Fifth Avenue. He carried the leather case so carefully that one might well think it contained the Koh-i-noor. Inside they were seated. And then the clever bit of camouflaging was explained. In the case were two bottles. A New York firm makes them in this way and the sale of them is something enormous. But you have to have tweeds to go with them. And that reminds me—a friend of mine Tad Dorgan's was going to England. At a farewell party Tad asked his friend to bring him some tweeds—and then added, "if not tweeds at least a tweed."

The phrase "Gilding the raspberry" was coined on Broadway. And George M. Cohan made it a part of the English language by declaring that the actors on strike did that to him. It is the theatrical idea of saluting in the strike. "The phrase has finally broken into print and even into the staid old Evening Post, where editors come to work in truck coats. When George Bernard Shaw used "bloody" in his striking sense to play the audience felt that all was over with the English language and when George M. Cohan commented bitterly upon "the raspberry" it assumed genuine importance in the strike news and all the copy readers agreed to let it pass. In London theaters "the raspberry" has a serious "theatrical" flavor now and then the expression is heard in connection with raw deals. Thomas Hardy unwittingly gave the phrase a literary standing when he wrote his poem, "A Carol Goldfish" and had these lines "the grave to be her false one's who when trading were for the bird."

PLANNING SHACKS FOR PATIENTS

Auditor S. D. Eckhart and Commissioners J. H. Ayer, W. O. Shively and Jacob Kuhner have returned from Chillicothe where they attended a joint meeting of the trustees of the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis sanitarium and the commissioners of the six counties which maintain the institution.

The meeting was arranged by Trustee Conrad Roth of this city to consider plans for the construction of shacks for the use of patients in the hospital stages of the disease, but no definite action was taken.

There are 16 patients at the sanitarium at present and of these six are from Scioto county. The per capita fee for the maintenance of patients is $2.50 and this expense is paid by the county from which the patient is sent. In addition to the annual expense for the maintenance of the institution, Scioto county's portion for the running expenses of the institution last year was approximately $8,000.

WOMEN WILL UNITE IN CITY CLUB TO AID ALL MOVEMENTS FOR CITY'S GOOD

The Women's City Club is not a militant organization. In truth it is but a band which will hold to its high ideal of public life the women who are developed in the world war the characteristics which draw them from narrow home life to the wider horizon of public service.

Cooperation is the keynote of success, and in carrying out an enterprise of this kind in Portsmouth will mean cooperation of the women of Portsmouth with city officials and organizations like the Bureau of Community Service, Red Cross, and others having the welfare of the city at heart.

These women will never be able to go back to the old life. Our awhile there will be empty hearts as the Red Cross work has ended but the Women's City Club will fill the vacuum. It will not demand the time but it will expect the thought of these women in planning to assist the authorities in keeping the city a place of beauty, health and cleanliness.

The club will cooperate with various movements which will better the city's morals, health, and general civic conditions.

During this weekend, women are visiting neighbors to see if they can encourage enrollment in the Women's City Club. A number of women are still anxious to let the leading tragedy try it out first and instead of being back to see what is going to happen. This attitude cripples an organization a great deal, of course, but it is expected that several thousand of the 6000 women in the city will enroll.

W. G. Carson has become identified with the Portsmouth College of Business and is doing well for his new firm. At Oak Hill this week he received six new students. Mr. Carson was for many years engaged in the piano business in this city.

Store Robbed At South Webster

The robbery was not discovered until about six o'clock this morning when Mr. Bauer went to open up the store for the day. On opening the door he found his stock largely gone and discovered that robbers had entered the place and had entered by breaking the side window.

Sheriff Riskey was immediately notified and he went to the scene of the robbery.

LOCAL MUSIC LOVERS WILL HEAR ARTISTS AT POPULAR PRICES

In order to afford the music loving public of Portsmouth an opportunity of hearing well-known artists at popular prices, J. B. Distel of the Distel Furniture Store under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., has arranged for a series of four concerts to be given in Portsmouth this coming season.

The first concert which will take place in October will be given by Oscar Seagle, the celebrated American Baritone in joint concert with Miss Barbara Maurel, the contralto of the Boston Opera Company.

The second concert scheduled for November will witness the first appearance in Portsmouth of Susha Jacobson the sensational new Russian violinist, who sprang into fame in New York almost overnight by remarkable appearance with the New York Symphony Orchestra. Jacobson is described by the critics as a "genius of the violin." The third of the series is to be given in March by Charles Harrison the favorite tenor, and Angarita Farrar the young California soprano, while the series will close in April with a concert by the well-known Columbia Stellar Quartet, which has been called the greatest male quartet ever assembled.

Oscar Seagle, who made his first great success in Paris, returned to America in 1912 and since that time has so firmly established himself with the American music lovers that he is obliged to embark each season on long concert tours in order to satisfy the demand for his appearances. Wherever singing and the art of interpretation at its best is appreciated, the name of Oscar Seagle at once suggests itself. Gifted with one of the best baritone voices of the age, Seagle has found the secret of singing, not only in the "grand manner" but also the art of simplicity seldom encountered. With Mr. Seagle Miss Barbara Maurel, a charming contralto will sing several favorite songs and also operatic and modern numbers.

Susha Jacobson, the new violinist, achieved his success in New York which was almost without precedent, by regaining for the New York Symphony Orchestra, with Walter Damrosch conducting and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Joseph Strinsky, conducting, young Jacobson will again face the audiences in New York which last season rose to acclaim him as one of the great violinists of the generation. Charles Harrison, the popular lyric tenor, has made a place for himself in America which has taken many other singers years to accomplish. Harrison's voice is a pure tone of appealing quality, great sonority and compass. His recent tour with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra amounted to a literal triumph for the young tenor.

Special interest in the third concert centers in the appearance of the lovely Angarita Farrar, who has lately returned from France where for four months she sang for the soldiers at the A. P. H. M. Farrar was engaged for the opera house in Paris when the war broke out, and after returning to America her success in concert was instantaneous.

The last concert of the series which brings forward the Columbia Stellar Quartet, will in many ways no doubt prove one of the most popular concerts ever given in Portsmouth.

Definite dates for these attractions will be announced in the near future.
